Mrs. Gazeley Honored By Alumni Club

President Joseph P. Costantino, Jr., of the University of California, Santa Barbara, Alumni Association announced today the appointment of Mrs. (R. J.) Donna Patricia Gazeley, 1956, of 22006 Ocean Ave. as a charter member of the UCSB Alumni Association "Century Club." As a member, Mrs. Gazeley will provide a local contact point between UCSB and the community. She has been given full information on the rapidly-growing Santa Barbara campus of the University, and is available to answer the questions of prospective students and parents. She was a political science major at Santa Barbara, and until this year taught at Meadow Park School.

UCSB is situated on a point overlooking the ocean, with its own mile-long beach, some nine miles west of Santa Barbara. Approximately 4,000 students registered in the current semester, some in the newly-established School of Engineering. Most students take their studies in the College of Letters and Science. Catalogues, residence hall information, and other publications are available from Mrs. Gazeley who lives at 22006 Ocean Ave., Torrance.

Mrs. McClure Hostess to Circle Party

Mrs. James McClure entertained the Sara Circle of the First Methodist Church at its annual holiday party at her home, 1629 Cota Ave.

The rooms were festively decorated in the holiday theme and a three-tiered Christmas cake, baked by Mrs. McClure, who recently won the cake-baking contest at the First Methodist Church, centered the dining table. From the top of the cake, jolly old St. Nick waved his greetings.

The group enjoyed a holiday buffet luncheon, followed by a gift exchange.

Mrs. Tina King, the circle's shut-in, was a special guest at the party and was presented with a musical tea pot. A gift was also given to Mrs. Pearl Greer, circle chairman.

Mrs. McClure conducted the devotions at which time she told the Christmas story.

Attending the party were Mmes. Eva Radford, Clara Witmer, Frances Tiffin, Phoebe Morrow, Virgie Fopay, Bessie Box, Martha Evans, Angie Disario, Maude Lilley, Millie Millstead, Al-lie Blakeney, Charlotte Dolan, Ora Donaldson, Sarah Hogue and Bessie Sizemore.
